5/8/73 GENERAL INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION

The attached is a request from the Deputy Attorney General for additional investigation in this matter including interviews with Charles W. Colson, former Special Counsel to the President; E. Howard Hunt, Jr., convicted Watergate subject; John W. Dean, III, former Counsel to the President; John D. Ehrlichman, former Assistant to the President for Domestic Affairs; and L. Patrick Gray, III, former Acting Director of the FBI. Interviews of Colson and Hunt concern Hunt's trip to Denver, Colorado, to interview Dita Beard, former Washington Lobbyist for ITT and involve the much publicized Dita Beard memo of 6/25/71. Interviews of Dean, Ehrlichman and Gray concern among other things, a certain file folder which had been among the documents in Hunt's safe in the Executive Office Building and which reportedly Dean obtained and turned over to Mr. Gray. Included among the papers also was reportedly Hunt's memorandum concerning his interview of Dita Beard.

Previous investigation requested has been completed and reported to the Criminal Division.

WFO is being instructed to conduct immediate investigation concerning specific points requested by the Department and to conduct other investigation arising from the interviews.

Enclosed for each office are two or more copies of a memorandum dated 5/22/69, received from the Antitrust Division. Also enclosed for information are two or more copies of material relating to residential homes built and sold by Levitt and Sons. This investigation relates to the proposed merger of captioned firms, and the Antitrust Division is seeking information to enable it to make a determination as to whether a civil complaint should be filed seeking to bar the merger. The antitrust attorney handling this matter has advised that any court action taken will be in Connecticut, therefore, New Haven is being designated office of origin.

It should be noted that the Antitrust Division desires to gather sufficient facts about the anticompetitive aspects of this proposed merger to make a determination by 6/1/69, as to whether there is a violation of the antitrust laws. The antitrust attorney also advised that our investigation need not be completed by 6/1/69; however, in view of stockholder meetings to vote on the proposed merger, which will take place in June and July, 1969, the Antitrust Division desires to have as much information as possible prior to these meetings. Accordingly, each office is

ANTITRUST.

By memorandum dated 5/22/69, the Antitrust Division requested investigation by the Bureau in connection with the Department's consideration of the proposed merger of Hartford Fire Insurance Company. Hartford, Connecticut, and International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation (ITT), New York City. primarily a conglomerate-type merger inasmuch as the two companies are not in direct competition, except in several limited areas. The proposed merger is scheduled to be consummated in July, 1969.

Antitrust Division is considering whether to oppose this merger as a possible violation of the Clayton Antitrust Act and has requested that we interview agents of Hartford Fire Insurance Company in five metropolitan areas in the United States and San Juan. Puerto Rico. We are asked, among other things, to determine from these agents, who are not employees of Hartford Fire Insurance Company, what effect the proposed merger would have on their sale of property and liability insurance. We are also requested to interview real estate developers in the same metropolitan areas who compete with Levitt and Sons, a large residential developer and subsidiary of ITT, in the sale of homes to determine if combination of ITT with Levitt has resulted in any competitive advantage for Levitt and if proposed merger with Hartford Fire Insurance Company would give Levitt a competitive advantage in financial backing and land. development.

ACTION:

This request for investigation is being forwarded to the field for immediate investigative action.

Robert

H. Nicholson Insurance Agency, 150 Little Falls Road, Falls Church, Va., furnished the following information:

He has been in this line of business for a period of 18 years and is currently President of the Northern Virginia Association of Insurance Agents. His agency represents Aetna Insurance Company, the St. Paul group and the Hartford group. His agency issues policies on properties located in all of Northern Virginia and parts of Maryland. He said there are no data available to Hartford agents which indicates the rank and share of business Hartford holds in property and liability insurance in the County of Fairfax. Mr. _____ advised that Hartford's volume in this area is very low and he believes the reason is that the Government Employees Insurance Company is very strong in this area and that company's rates are very attractive.

He advised that the insurance companies do not furnish Agents with leads for new business in connection with real estate developments since that type insurance is the least profitable for the insurance companies and agents alike. The National Underwriters Magazine does rank insurance companies and he believed the latest issue listed Hartford group in about fifth or sixth position.

He stated it is his opinion that any business generated by Levitt Developments is negligible. He stated that he has sold only one home owner's policy to a purchaser of a new Levitt home at Greenbrier. This policy was written with the Aetna Insurance Company as the customer previously carried insurance with that company and indicated that preference. He stated that he has never lost any customers to Levitt and does not know of any other agents in the area that have.

Mr. does not believe the combination of International Telephone and Telegraph-Levitt and Hartford will effect his business in any way. He advised that it is customary for lending companies to offer insurance coverage at the time the loan is negotiated, but he has no knowledge that any lender was pressuring prospective home owners to purchase their insurance. He stated that this would be in violation of state law and does not believe any of the large insurance companies would engage in any such activity. Mr. stated that he considers the Hartford Insurance Company as a leader in the insurance industry and he sincerely believes they would refrain from engaging in any illegal practice and furthermore, does not believe they would ever resort to this.

He advised that all insurance companies require fire protection equipment if the property covered by the insurance is subject to state or local fire regulations. In those instances, the insurance companies usually instruct prospective policy holders to consult with their agent. Mr. stated that insurance companies refrain from recommending any particular product by name since they do not want to be criticized if the product does not function properly.

Mr. advised that the Hartford Company does not give discounts to customers who have such fire protection equipment. He advised that the premium rates are established by the Virginia Insurance Rating Bureau and if the property to be insured is such that fire protection equipment is required, the rates are established on the basis the fire protection equipment is necessary and will be installed.

Mr. advised that each large insurance company has an engineering department and a representative of that department usually goes to the building site and inspects fire protection equipment to insure that fire regulations are being complied with. He stated that such inspections are also conducted by local agencies and buildings such as nursing homes and public meeting places are also inspected by a State agency.

b7C

Mr. stated he does not believe it would be mutually advantageous for Hartford to recommend a particular sprinkler company since this would be in violation of both state and federal laws and he does not believe Hartford would risk their reputation in this manner.

Inc., 802 West Broad Street, Falls Church, Va., furnished the following information:

His agency has a large volume of home owner property insurance type business and represents five major insurance companies in this line. These companies are: Aetna Casualty and Insurance Company, Aetna Insurance Company, Monarch Insurance Company, State Capitol Insurance Company of Raleigh and the Hartford Insurance Company. The largest company, volume wise, is Aetna Casualty and Insurance Company.

stated he would rank the Hartford group on the bottom as this group is the youngest in his agency. He advised that he has represented the Hartford group for about two years. He stated that there are no data available to show the rank and share of business Hartford holds in property and liability insurance in Fairfax County. stated it was his opinion that the amount of business generated by the Levitt Development at Greenbrier is negligible, and, in fact, he only heard of the Greenbrier development about two weeks ago. He advised that his agency does not solicit business at any developments in the area as profits in this insurance line are very low for both the insurance company and the agents. He stated that the insurance companies do not pressure agents in any way to obtain such stated he does not believe Levitt business. Mr. sells insurance and does not believe Levitt would ever insist that insurance be handled by any particular company. He stated it was his opinion that International Telephone and Telegraph-Levitt and Hartford were all reputable firms and would not engage in any activity which was in violation of law. conglomerates are formed is that it gives them the ability to obtain better financing and in this case it would undoubtedly be advantageous for International Telephone and Telegraph (ITT) to make use of the large cash reserves held by Hartford.

Mr. stated that his agency has written several policies on homes at Greenbrier and has not experienced any difficulties in writing those policies. He stated that while state law prohibits financing companies, mortgage lenders, etc., from controlling the insurance, these companies, nevertheless, "have an in" since they are on the scene and have every legal right to sell insurance. They are only prohibited from insisting that a particular insurance company be utilized.

He stated that his agency has not lost any customers to Levitt and he does not believe Levitt offers any insurance to prospective home buyers. He stated that he is constantly in touch with other insurance agents in this area and none of these have complained of losing customers to Levitt.

Mr. stated that another prime purpose of conglomerates is that of gaining sufficient strength and power to make further acquisitions. He cited as an example the recent affiliation of Yeonas developers with the Olin-Mathieson Corporation. He understood that this came about as Yeonas did not have sufficient capital to acquire land for development. He stated that in this area it is particularly advantageous for a developer, such as Yeonas, to purchase land well in advance as the market values are constantly on the increase. He stated, therefore, that the proposed merger would undoubtedly benefit Levitt from that standpoint since ITT would be able to advance funds necessary to purchase land several years in advance of actual development.

Mr. stated that insurance companies do not issue any directives or bulletins which list fire protection equipment by brand name. He stated that the governing factor is the type of equipment and not the manufacturer. He stated they would never do anything like this and if they did they would end up in jail.

, b6 - b7C

Mr. stated he has absolutely no fear of the proposed merger involving ITT, Levitt and Hartford and does not believe it would have any effect whatever on his business.

Agency, 4069 Chain Bridge Road, Fairfax, Va., furnished the following information:

He has been in the insurance business for about 25 years and has represented the Hartford Insurance group during most of that period. He also represents Aetna Insurance Company, U.S. Fidelity and Guarantee Company and the St. Paul group. He advised that there are no available data to show the rank and share of business Hartford holds in property and liability insurance in the County. He stated that Hartford Company is weak in this area and he does not believe Hartford is concerned over this since Hartford is not pushing for insurance in the personal line. He stated that home owner insurance is not really profitable to the insurance company or the agents and this is also true of automobile and workman's compensation type insurance. He does not believe the amount of business generated by the Levitt development at Greenbrier is significant and believes the total home owners and fire and extended coverage sold in Levitt developments is insignificant. He stated that his total annual premiums for 1968 amounted to $358,000. Of this amount $50,000 represented premiums written for the Hartford Insurance Company. He stated that he sold home owner's policy to one person who purchased a Levitt home at Greenbrier. He advised that this customer had previously carried insurance on another property located in the City of Fairfax and the customer requested that he continue the home owner's coverage at Greenbrier.

He advised that he does not go out of his way to obtain clients in the home owner and residential insurance field and does not believe any agent would specialize in this ь6 . b7С field due to the small profit rate. He estimated that the expenses involved in this type policy would exceed the commissions for the first two to three years and for this reason this type business is undesirable.

He stated that his agency has not lost any customers to Levitt and he does not know of any agents who have lost customers to Levitt. He advised that the proposed International Telephone and Telegraph (ITT)-Levitt and Hartford merger would have no effect on his business and he does not believe it would effect the business of any other agent in this area. He believes Hartford will not run the risk of losing its agencies over something like this. He does not believe the amount of business generated by any one developer, such as Levitt, would be significant enough for an insurance company such as Hartford to change their policy in dealing with their agents. He believes Hartford is agency oriented and if they changed their policy in that regard the agents would abandon Hartford.

Mr. stated that it is not the insurance companies that require installation of fire protection equipment. All insurance companies have a line guide which is based on the type occupancy, exposures, construction and the level of public protection. The presence of fire protection equipment in buildings is dictated by state and local agencies. In this area the Virginia Insurance Rating Bureau inspects premises and establishes rates. He said if there are any discounts involved due to presence of fire protection equipment, such discounts are not offered by the insurance companies but are built into the rate plan by the Rating Bureau.

Mr. stated that Hartford and other insurance companies do not recommend that customers install automatic sprinkler systems. His agency has not received copies of any bulletins or directives from Hartford or any other insurance company dealing with this subject. He stated it was his opinion that if Hartford did own an automatic sprinkler company they would not recommend products of that company as obviously this is in violation of Federal and state laws.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

1 6/2/69 Date_ b6 b7C Lippitt and Simonpietri, General Insurance, 704 Ponce de Leon, Santurce, Puerto Rico, upon being apprised of the identity of the interviewing Agent and of the fact that an investigation was being conducted at the request of Assistant Attorney General, Antitrust Division, Department of Justice, furnished the following information: He was aware that a merger had been proposed between Hartford Fire Insurance Company (Hartford) and International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation (ITT) through reading material he had absorbed in recent months. He was of the opinion that this was not a desireable merger inasmuch as ITT did not belong in the insurance business. He felt that it was bad enough that some large insurance companies had merged making it hard to compete, and that the proposed merger of ITT and Hartford would further restrain competition. pointed out that he had no way of knowing how this proposed merger would effect the insurance business in Puerto Rico. There are two (2) principal agencies handling the Hartford business in Puerto Rico. They are as follows: b6 Consolidated Insurance Agencies b7C 350 Comercio Street San Juan, Puerto Rico Overseas Insurance Agency 350 Comercio Street San Juan, Puerto Rico He recommended interview of these two men inasmuch as they handle the bulk of Hartford business on the island. He was not aware whether other agencies handled Hartford insurance. SJ 60-46 6/2/69 of Santurce, Puerto Rico File# b6 6/2/69 :ebd Date dictated. b7C on the risk involved. No recommendations are made by Consolidated or by Hartford with regard to protective devices to be placed in a company. If protective devices are needed, this will be established in the investigation conducted by the PRIRB. To the best of his knowledge, Hartford has never made any recommendations as to specific types of sprinkler service to be used.

Ordinarily, Consolidated receives its business through the banking institutions in Puerto Rico and through brokers. was unaware whether Levitt and Sons of Puerto Rico were in the insurance business. He may have received some insurance business on Levittown homes; however, he has no way of checking this inasmuch as the insurance would have been handled through mortgage received from a bank. He indicated that any of the policies he had insured were in the Levittown area. He did not know what company issued policies in that particular area.

Because of a law in Puerto Rico which states that companies must be insured through a local insurance agency, and any business being handled by Hartford would come through his agency or through the Overseas agency. His firm did not handle the insurance for the Puerto Rico Telephone Company, nor did he believe that Overseas handled this business. He was not certain what insurance firm insured the Puerto Rico Telephone Company, a subsidiary of ITT.

was aware that the Sheraton Corporation had several hotels in Puerto Rico, but he did not have any of this business. The only property that he was aware that had been built by Levitt and Sons of Puerto Rico, was the property located near Catano, Puerto Rico. He reiterated that he was not aware of who handled the insurance for the property in that area.

equipment. However, if Hartford owned a fire protection factory, he would probably recommend the Hartford factory. The premium is based on the rating given to the building by the Fire Rating Board, Baltimore, Maryland.

If a client is in the process of building a new construction, he will recommend that the building be built of fireproof material putting it in a fireproof rating. The premiums on a fireproof structure are less than one with the fire protection equipment. He points out the advantage of the discounts if fire protection equipment is installed and leaves it to the discretion of the client if he wants it installed. He said the premiums would also vary as to the type of equipment or merchandise in the building.

The Hartford Company has a Connecticut Bank and Trust Company, which finances the premiums of customers for 3%. This has been of great value to his business. He thought Hartford might pay a small per cent but he did not know.

He does not have any data available which shows the rank and share of business Hartford helds in the State of Maryland or any given county. He had no idea as to how much business Hartford has compared to other companies in the area and has no data available to him concerning this matter.

He does not know how the Hartford Company competes with others or new Levitt homes, however, he would say they are pretty close to the same. He had heard that State Farm Agents have been doing door to door soliciting in Levitt developments with very good results. He did not know of anyone in particular doing this and he, himself, had never tried it.

Inc., 1010 Rockville Pike, Rockville, Maryland, telephone furnished the following information:

Montgomery County, Naryland. The home building business in Montgomery County, Naryland. The homes built by his company are in the same price range as homes built by Levitt and Sons. The combination of International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation (ITT) and Levitt à Sons (Levitt) has resulted in a competitive advantage for Levitt, in that Levitt with the additional capital furnished by ITT may now be able to buy up large tracts of land for development ten or twenty years from now. This in turn will make land more scarce in the future and also raise the price of land in areas of real estate developments. The merger of ITT and Levitt also enables Levitt to buy these large land areas now while the land is sheaper and hold the land without worrying about taxes or other payments.

The addition of Hartford Fire Insurance Company Group to the ITT-Levitt organization will probably give Levitt a greater competitive advantage through added financial backing, thus, impressing the power of Levitt to purchase large land areas for future development.

This ability to buy large tracts of land well ahead of the development of a residential area gives any real setate developer an advantage over competitors since plans, financing and other such arrangements can be unde in advance, thus, eliminating these problems when the development is ready to begin. The addition of Martford with ITT-Levitt might aid the handling of the financing and add additional backing and capital to Levitt, but he could see no other advantages for Levitt through the marger of ITT and Martford.

Title:

HARTFORD FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY; INTERNATIONAL TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH CORPORATION

Character: ANTITRUST

Review of Insurance Commission report for 1967-1968 revealed that Hartford Fire Insurance Company wrote premiums for $375,161 or 0.440% of Puerto Rico total in non-life insurance business and $86,676 or 1.951% in fire insurance business. Manager, Puerto Rico Inspection and Rating Bureau, stated that majority of insurance for Levittown was issued by Central National Insurance Company of Omaha, Nebraska. He believed that Puerto Rico Telephone Company was handled by Great American Insurance Company. Chief Deputy Commissioner of Insurance for Puerto Rico stated that Puerto Rican laws would probably prevent an insurance company from owning a sprinkler device company. President, IBEC Housing Company, stated that the financing of land tracts was a major problem for companies like IBEC and Levitt. Usually, construction money is tied up in land money. Using bank financing, interest rates increase the overall cost which must be absorbed by the final buyer. Vice president of finance, Rexach and Company, advised that a possible competitive advantage for Levitt in the combination with International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation (ITT) is the gain in surplus capital. Land cost is high in Puerto Rico and should the merger provide more money for Levitt, an advantage would be gained. Treasurer and comptroller, Bird Construction Company, also pointed out that the purchase of land is a very costly item for a developer. The developer needs all the money he can obtain for construction costs. Having a ready supply of money would be a distinct advantage to a developer.

ger existed between Hartford Fire Insurance Company and International Telephone and Telegraph Company; however, he did not believe that this merger would greatly effect Puerto Rico. Hartford represents a fairly small percentage of insured companies in Puerto Rico. From his records, he noted the following property damage coverage issued by Hartford Fire Insurance Company for the fiscal year 1967:

b6 b7C

Property Damage Insurance $191,764

The above amount represented 1.271% of the total Island business. was of the opinion that the casualty insurance coverage would probably be even lower.

Benitez and Del Nido, Incorporated, Insurance, Penthouse Suite, Midtown Building, Hato Rey, Puerto Rico, after being apprised of the identity of the interviewing agent and being advised that this investigation was being conducted at the request of the Assistant Attorney General, of the Anti-Trust Division, United States Department of Justice, furnished the following information:

had been in the insurance business for approximately twelve (12) years time. For the past four (4) years, his company had been representing the Hartford Fire Insurance Company. He would estimate that Hartford Fire Insurance Company represented a very small portion of his company's business; possibly no more than ten per cent (10%) of the total volume.

His company handles the insurance for the Puerto Rico Telephone Company, a subsidiary of the International Telephone and Telegraph Company. Because of the great risk involved in handling the insurance for that company, the risk is shared among several insurance companies. The Great American Insurance Company has approximately sixty (60%) per cent of the total coverage while the Hartford Fire Insurance Company handles approximately three (3%) per cent.

His firm does not do any business with the Sheraton Hotels or with Levitt and Sons of Puerto Rico, Incorporated. He is not aware which insurance companies handle the insurance coverage for these two companies. _____ advised that Consolidated Insurance Agency, the Overseas Insurance Agency and his firm are the only representatives of the Hartford Insurance Company in Puerto Rico.

His company is in the business of developing housing tracts and general construction. Its chief competitor in Puerto Rico is Levitt and Sons de Puerto Rico, Inc. The financing of land tracts is a major problem for companies like IBEC and Levitt. Usually, when this is done, construction money is tied up in land money and can greatly hamper construction. An ideal situation, would be for the construction company to have a sister company to provide the financing, leaving the developing to the construction company.

was of the opinion that a competitive advantage would be gained by a developer if he were able to purchase large land tracts well ahead of the development of a residential area. He pointed out that the same reasons were prevalent in that regard because of the financial advantages he had previously mentioned. From a business standpoint, he would not be in disagreement; however, because it is the most economical route for a construction firm to follow.

Caribbean Towers, Bird Construction Company, Inc. (Bird), Santurce, Puerto Rico, upon being apprised of the identity of the interviewing agent and of the fact that an investigation was being conducted at the request of assistant attorney general, Antitrust Division, Department of Justice, furnished the following information:

His firm operates in the development in condominium

His firm operates in the development in condominium construction, housing and buildings. Usually, the company is in the position of not having to buy land tracts prior to constructing and generally, the company will contract only to build. In conjunction with this type operation, a performance bond must be provided by Bird which costs the company thousands of dollars. This is in relation to the builder's risk covering cases of disaster such as hurricanes, earthquakes, etc.

The purchase of land is a very costly item for a developer. Usually, the developer needs all the money he can obtain for construction costs. Having a ready supply of money would be a distinct advantage to a developer. In relation to this, he pointed out that the combination of International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation (ITT) and Levitt and Sons may have given Levitt a boost financially. He was of the opinion that the proposed merger between ITT and Hartford Fire Insurance Company (Hartford) could possibly give Levitt a definite competitive advantage. This would enable Levitt to buy large tracts of land without using cash needed for construction.

added that although Bird did not ordinarily buy land tracts at the present time, it may do so in the future. If that were to be the case and Bird was in direct competition with Levitt, he could see where Levitt would have a competitive advantage.

in the Illinois area for Campanelli Brothe Builders, advised that he has been in the Illinois area for approximately 10 years and that his company is one of the larger builders in Illinois and is in direct competition with Levitt in the development, construction, and sale of residential property and homes.	b6 e rs b7C advised that he is of the opinion that the ITT and Levitt and Sons Builders combination has provided a definite competitive advantage for Levitt. He stated that this advantage has resulted both from the financial resources of Levitt and the psychological effect that an ITT-Levitt and Sons combination affords. related that present land acquisition requires immediate cash and that the financial ability of Levitt due to its combination with ITT has resulted in a definite competitive advantage. Additionally, he stated that general reputation and size of Levitt in conjunction with ITT has afforded them an advantage in the ability to acquire labor and in the ultimate selling of homes. He stated that construction employees are more willing to work for and remain with a company the size of Levitt due to its reputation for stability and vast financial resources.	ь6 ь7с stated that he felt the addition of Hartford to the ITT-Levitt organization would just enhance Levitt's competitive position due to the additional backing of the Hartford Insurance Company.	ь6 ъ7с advised that the ability to buy large tracts of land and ahead of the development of a residential area gives the real estate developer a distinct competitive advantage due to the price fluctuation land. For the reasons outlined above, he felt the addition of Hartford would work as a competitive advantage for Levitt.

As an example of the psychological effect that the combination of Levitt and ITT has, related that approximately five years ago; residential land in the Schaumberg area was selling for approximately $2,800 an acre and that he was bidding on land at that price. Subsequently, it was rumored that Levitt and Sons was anticipating locating in the Schaumberg area and the price of land rose to $4,000 an acre in a period of one year.

Synopsis:

Mr. of Winston Development Corporation, advised that the ITT-Levitt combination has had no competitive effect, nor would the ITT-Hartford combination substantially effect his competitive position. Insurance agents in the Chicago area for the Hartford Company foresee very limited effect on their competitive position if the proposed Hartford-ITT combination is consumated, nor have they felt any effect from the Levitt-ITT combination.

Mr. ARTHUR KNOLL, Chairman and Treasurer of the Moore, Case Lyman, and Hubbard, Corporation, advised that his agency is the oldest and possibly largest agency in the Chicago area which writes insurance for the Hartford Company. KNOLL stated he has been in the insurance business for 40 years, primarily with the Moore-Case Company. He is not an officer of any insurance agency association.

KNOLL did not have any data available showing the rank and sale of business that Hartford holds in the property and liability field in the Chicago area. He stated that his estimate of the Hartford ranking could best be stated as "major and important". KNOLL recalled having seen in the "ITT Notice of Annual Meeting dated May 7, 1969", a ranking of Hartford Insurance Company sales in various areas throughout the country.

KNOLL did not have any data available showing the amount of business generated by the Levitt Development for homeowners for fire and extended coverage insurance nor any information on the coverage sold in the community represented by insurance covering Levitt homes. KNOLL did not know if his company has ever sold insurance to a purchaser of a new Levitt home nor did he know if he had ever lost a customer to Levitt when the client purchased a Levitt home. He could not furnish the name of any agent who may have lost customers to Levitt.

KNOLL did not foresee any effect on his business by the ITT acquisition of Levitt.

KNOLL advised that under certain circumstances Hartford Company requires the installation of fire protection equipment before they will insure the client, depending on the nature of the client's business and the facilities being insured. He did not know of any discount system for the installation of fire protection equipment, nor did he have any copies of the bulletins or directives from Hartford on the subject.

KNOLL stated that although Hartford may require the installation of fire protection equipment in certain instances, they do not recommend any one fire protection equipment company. It was KNOLL's opinion that it would be mutually advantageous for Hartford to recommend a sprinkler sempany and for the sprinkler company to recommend Hartford, if Hartford owned an automatic sprinkler company.

Mr. J. CHIDLY, President of the Chidly Hughes Company, 175 Jackson Boulevard, Chicago, Illinois, advised that his company is a substantial writer of Hartford Insurance. CHIDLY stated that he originally entered the insurance business in 1905 as an inspector for the Chicago Board of Underwriters. He maintained this job until approximately 1926, when he started his present firm. He is not an officer in any agents association.

CHIDLY stated that he does not have any available data showing the rank and sale of business Hartford holds in property and liability insurance in the county or city where a Levitt development is located. He stated that he could venture no estimate as to Hartford's ranking and sale of business held in the Chicago area other than substantial. CHIDLY did not have any data available showing the amount of business generated by the Levitt development for homeowners and fire and extended coverage insurance in the community.

CHIDLY did not know if he had ever sold homeowners insurance to a purchaser of a new Levitt home nor if he had ever lost a customer to Levitt when the client purchased a Levitt home. He advised that he did not feel that Levitt was of a significance in the homeowners insurance field. He could not furnish the name of any agent who had lost customers to Levitt.

CHIDLY advised that he could not foresee any effect on his business by the ITT acquisition of the Hartford Company.

CHIDLY stated that in certain instances, depending on the nature of a client's business and the facilities to be insured, Hartford does require the installation of fire protection equipment as does Cook County and Illinois State building directives. He did not have any copies of the bulletins and directives from Hartford on the subject. CHIDLY stated that Hartford does not recommend the installation of any one particular automatic sprinkler system company and he does not feel it would be advantageous for Hartford to recommend any one sprinkler company if they owned a sprinkler company since most of this is handled by the agent.

1 6/12/69 Mr. of the Conkling, Price, and Webb Agency, 175 Jackson Boulevard, Chicago, Illinois, advised that he has been in the insurance business for 23 years and is a substantial writer of Hartford homeowners coverage. He is a member of the Chicago Board of Underwriters, but does not hold an office. did not have any data available showing the rank and sale of business Hartford holds in the property and liability insurance in the county or city where a Levitt development is located. His own estimate was that of "major". He did not have any data available showing the amount of business generated by a Levitt development for homeowners coverage insurance nor of total homeowners coverage sold in the area is represented by insurance covering Levitt homes. is of the opinion that Levitt and Son is of no significance in the insurance business in the Chicago area. He did not know if he had ever sold homeowners coverage to a purchaser of a Levitt home nor if he had ever lost a customer to Levitt when the client purchased a Levitt home. He enumerated again that he did not have feel Levitt was of a very significant influence. ____could not furnish the name of any agent who had ever lost a customer to Levitt. advised that he felt that the ITT-Levitt and Hartford combination would effect his business, but to what extent and how was not discernible. advised that in certain instances depending upon the facilities to be insured, Hartford does require the installation of fire protection equipment. He knew of no discount system in this regard. He stated that although Hartford does require, as does state law, the installation of fire protection equipment in certain instances, Hartford does not recommend any particular automatic sprinkler company. He did not have copies of any bulletins or directives issued by Hartford on the did not feel that it would be advantageous

HARTFORD FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY; INTERNATIONAL TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH CORPORATION ANTITRUST

On June 2, 1969,
New York State Association of Insurance Agents, Hills Bui lding, Syracuse, New York, telephone number advised that it was a misconception on the part of the Association, that the computer survey had been completed and was available relative to the identities of Hartford Insurance Agents in the State of New York.
Mr. advised that there were 2,050 agencies in his association, however, the files did not indicate the companies they represented. He stated approximately one nonth ago 72 questions were sent to the membership which would provide the information desired, however, only approximately 1,600 forms had been returned to date. These are being processed through a data processing center at Newburgh, New York, and the surey is not complete and the date of its completion cannot be estimated because a second mailing to non-responding agencies might become necessary.
Mr. observed that the insurance field directory issued by the Insurance Field Company of Louisville, Kentucky, which is put out annually, contains a complete listing geographically of all insurance gencies in New York State; under each insurance gency is listed the major insurance companies that they represent le stated that the asterisked agencies in this listing are current each year and those not asterisked is older information.

b6 b7С H: HARTFORD FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY; INTERNATINAL TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH CORPORATION ANTITRUST

He stated that all insurance companies and many insurance agency offices contain an issue of the insurance field directory. He stated that in the absence of complete data from his membership, the insurance field directory would be the source having the most current listing of New York State insurance agents and the companies they represent. He also observed that this directory would include agencies which are not members of his association and would be more complete from that viewpoint. He advised that if the results of his questionnaire when available were still desired, he would be glad to make same available and would have a better estimate as to when the information would be summarized after he returns from a June 10, 1969, meeting with the data computer representatives at Newburgh, New York.
